

The 2018 O'ahu Pilina Program Moku o Lo'e Hawai'i Institute of Marine Biology

Teachers Professional Development Workshop Resilience Education & Action: Our Place in a Changing World July 21 -23, 2018

Workshop Objectives

Assist educators in incorporating Common Core & NGSS practices into place-based lessons Enable teachers to implement standards-based classroom and field opportunities that support opportunities for outdoor education.
Allow teachers to learn by doing and to apply this knowledge in their classroom

Field Labs

- HIMB Coral Bleaching Lab
 - NOAA Planet Stewards & Data in the Classroom Coral Bleaching
 - Project Learning Tree Modules Workshop
 - Hands-On Experience with NSTA Learning Center
- *includes free NSTA learning center membership ($99 value)

Mai Ka Hana, Ka 'Ike In doing one learns teachers will experience a variety of standards-aligned curricula, community partners/organizations, field-trip sites, and how to successfully integrate materials and experiences into lesson plans.

PDE3 Credits available to those who complete a portfolio and attend the 2day workshop & Environmental Education Symposium

Open Registration

$200 registration fee includes
2 day Moku o Lo'e field workshop & HEEA Environmental Education Symposium
Please complete educator interest form for workshop registration

Contact: Hōkū Pihana
Cell # -(808) 769-1859
email: pihana@heea.org

